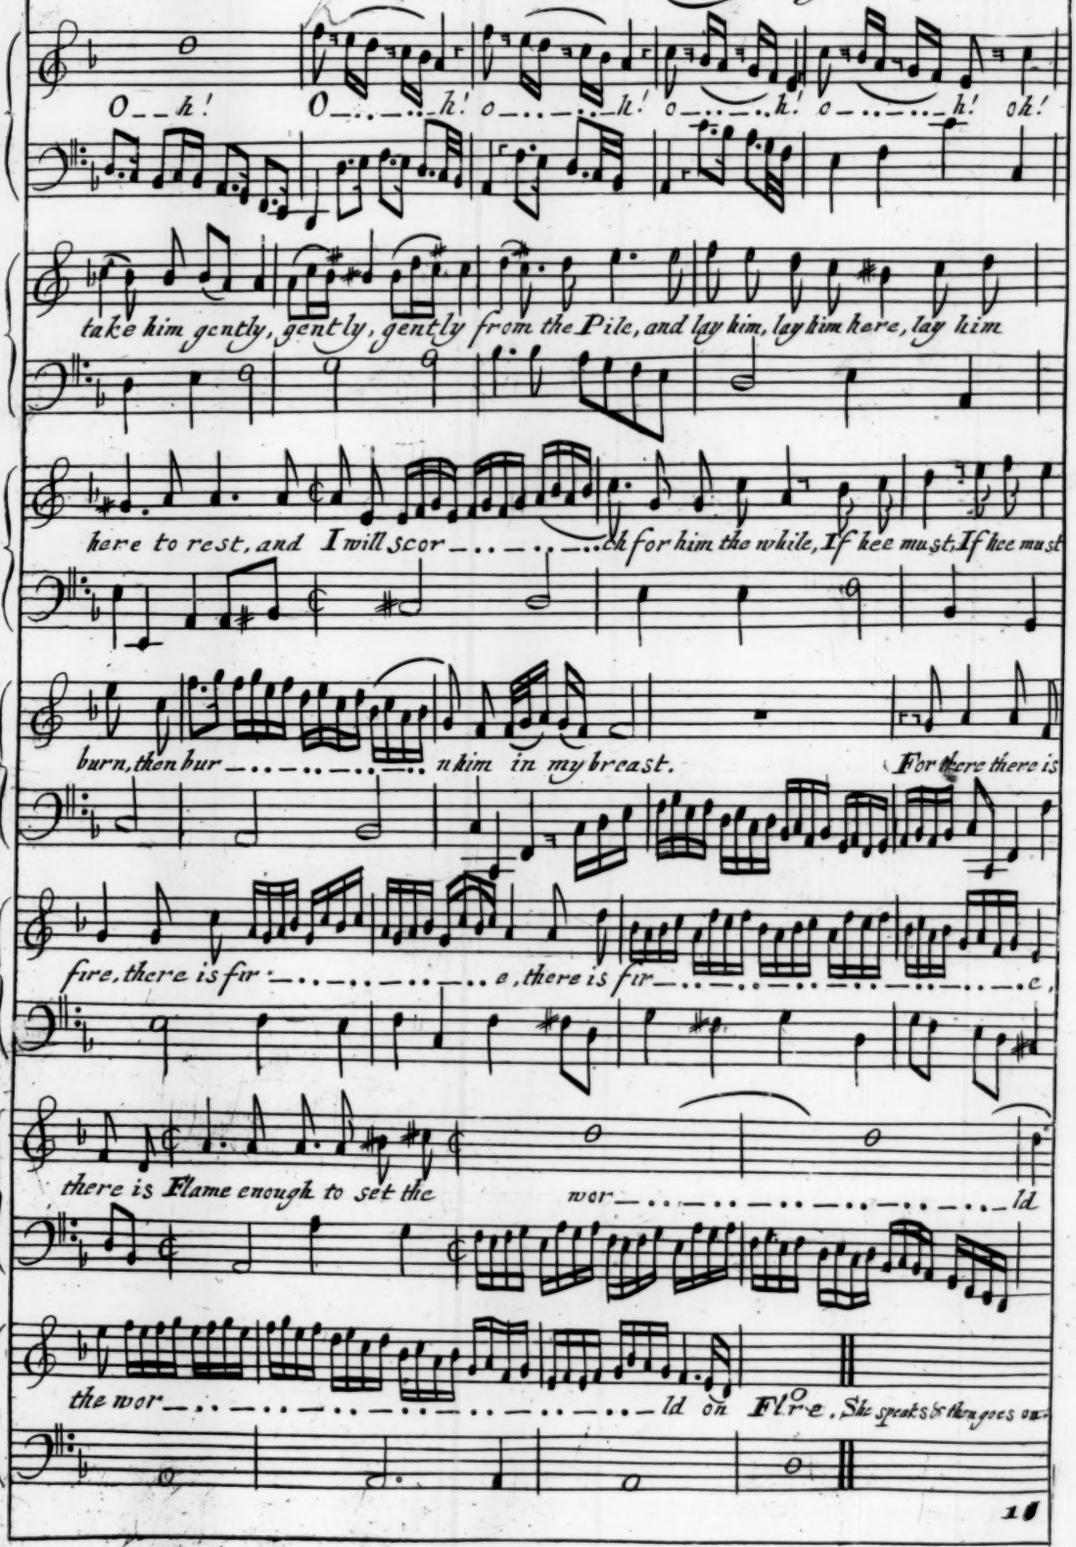
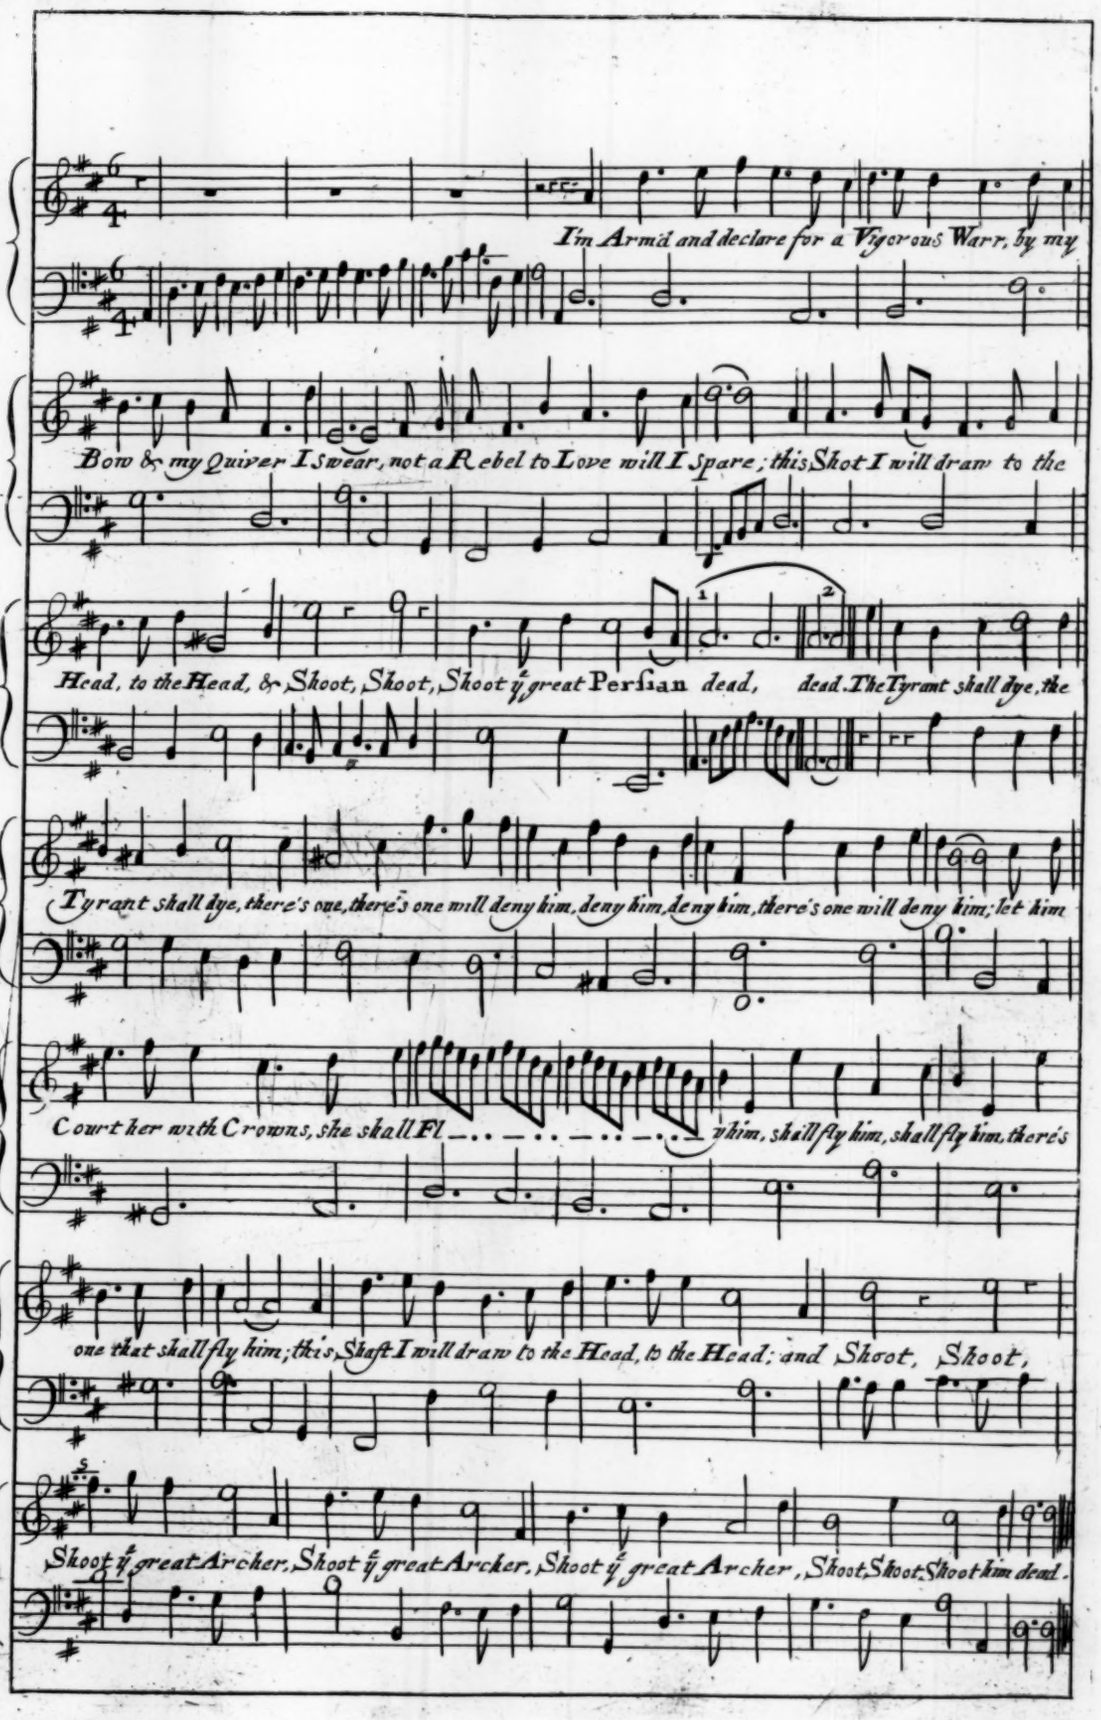
Sung by Mrs. Bracegirdle in Cyrus the Great. Sett to Musick by Mr. John Eccles. and exactly Engrav'd by T. Cross





I'm Armd and declare for a Vigorous Warr, by my Bow & my Quiver I Swear, not a Rebel to Love will I Spare; this Shot I will draw to the Head, to the Head, & Shoot, Shoot, Shoot ye great Persian dead, dead. The Tyrant shall dye, the Tyrant shall dye, there's one, there's one will deny him, deny him, deny him, there's one will deny him; let him
Court her with Crowns, she shall Fl — — —
